QUARTER MILLION VICTORY LOAN OBJECTIVE IS SET FOR GRIMSBY AND THE DISTRICT

Plan Observance Of Drive With Parade To High School — All Organizations Co-Operating To Make Local Effort Successful — Many Citizens Serving On Committee.

Grimsby's quota in the war loan, which is to be floated next month, is $225,000, or nearly a quarter of a million dollars. In announcing this fact, James W. Baker, local chairman, declared that while it seemed a big amount for Grimsby and the district, he felt that a creditable showing would be made.

Mr. Baker was speaking to a meeting of the local committee called to discuss Grimsby's active participation in the effort to make the biggest loan which the Dominion Government has ever floated a success. He outlined plans which were being made for the county, and arrangements were made for a celebration in Grimsby on June 8, the Friday before a monster Sunday parade and open-air service is to be held in St. Catharines.

Plans which were formulated last night call for a parade through Grimsby in the early evening in which representatives of all local organizations would take part. The parade will wind up at the High School grounds, where prayers would be said, a short speech given, and patriotic songs sung.

Plans also call for a float, to be built with the co-operation of the merchants. This float will be taken to the St. Catharines ceremony on Sunday. The White Elephant Shop ambulance which is being presented to the Red Cross may also be ready for that date, but there is nothing definite regarding this feature. Officials of the shop are understood to be trying to arrange with officials in Toronto to allow citizens of Grimsby to see the ambulance, and the hope has been expressed that it might be ready for the occasion of the Victory Loan celebration.

The original Grimsby Committee which was appointed to act under the chairmanship of Mr. Baker consisted of Reeve William Lothian, Robert Glendinning, Mrs. L. A. Bromley and Mrs. C. M. Hourigan. This committee has now been enlarged to include representatives of most of the town's organizations, and the following are members: Mrs. R. N. Wolfenden, I.O. D.E., Miss Maile Cullingford, Girl Guides; Mrs. George Warner, Women's Institute; Mrs. Claude Bodin, Red Cross Society; Mrs. G. Wade, White Elephant Shop; Clarence McNinch, Firemen; D. E. Anderson, Canadian Legion; J. A. Jacklin, Lions Club; Robert Glendinning, Chamber of Commerce; Donald Aude, Boy Scouts; Earl Marsh, Board of Education; L. A. Bromley, A.R.P. In addition to these, Reeve Charles Durham is acting for the township and Mayor Edric Johnson for the town. E. Bruce Murdoch of the Hamilton Spectator, was also appointed a member.

In connection with the parade slated for June 8, Mrs. Wade, Mrs. Hourigan and Mr. Jacklin have been appointed to look after the program at the high school, while Messrs. Aude, Marsh, McNinch and Bromley will have charge of the parade.

Reeve William Lothian was appointed secretary of the Grimsby committee.

Urge Citizens To Watch Hours For Sprinkling Lawns To Avoid Peak

Water Commission Points To Regulations And Stresses Advisability Of Retaining Discount—Pumping Costs Considerably Reduced.

A strong plea to the citizens of Grimsby, to observe the hours for sprinkling lawns, which they may read on each month's water bill, was voiced yesterday by J. H. Wells, chairman of the Water Commission. Mr. Wells, in pointing out that some worthwhile savings to the Commission could be effected by general co-operation, pointed out that savings to the waterworks actually meant money in the water consumers' pockets.

Pointing out that though last April's water consumption was approximately 800,000 gallons greater than in April of 1940, Mr. Wells declared that the cost of pumping the water was but $100.25, the lowest power bill received for the pumping of town and township water in thirty years.

Mr. Wells declared that substantial savings were to be effected through the Water Commission being able to take advantage of the 25 per cent. discount in the rates. This discount is allowed when the Commission does not go onto the "peak" load for Grimsby. He estimated that the discount for this month, which has eight days to go, could be over forty dollars. But, he warned, at the rate of consumption at the "peak" hours for Grimsby, the discount would be lost. In order to conserve the discount for this month, the water works has been using a gas motor and shutting off the electricity. This was done both Tuesday and Wednesday nights, but the cost of water pumped this way is nearly 3 cents per thousand gallons, as compared to a rate of 1½ cents per thousand gallons pumped by the electric motors.

Consumption of water for the last three days ending Wednesday night was as follows: Monday, 275,000 gallons; Tuesday, 278,000 gallons; Wednesday, up to ten p.m., 411,000 gallons.

In connection with peak loads and lawn sprinkling, Mr. Wells urges householders to confine their sprinkling to the hours 7 to 9 in the morning and 6 to 8:30 in the evening on alternate days. The town has been divided at Elizabeth and Mountain Streets for this purpose, and those living east of this line should water their lawns on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday. West of the line the days are Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday.

"The town of Grimsby draws more power at night," explained Mr. Wells, "and we are anxious to avoid going on the peak. If we run that peak load, we lose our discount, and if citizens will confine their watering to these hours they will not only help us but help themselves. Last year the Water Commission turned over to the Town something like $8,000, and that is about five mills on the rate. Savings such as we make on our discounts go to make up that total. "I sincerely request citizens to play the game with us, and if they do, they will find that the savings come right back into their pocket."

SEES CBC AS WELDING THE DOMINION'S NATIONALITIES INTO ONE GREAT COMPOSITE

Well-Known Radio Man Returns To Home Town To Tell Lions Club Of Canadian Broadcasting Aims And Problems Cites Development Of Country's Talent.

"The most important reason for a nationally-operated radio system—long recognized but poignantly emphasized since the war—is the welding of national sentiment."

So declared A. D. "Andy" Clarke, speaking before the Grimsby Lions Club last Tuesday evening. Mr. Clarke, an old boy of Grimsby, was one of the first news broadcasters in Canada, and he is heard each Sunday morning over the Ontario network of the CBC in "Neighbourly News," taken from the Ontario weekly newspapers.

The speaker explained that Canada was a nation of vast distances settled by people from various other countries, and all these people have brought with them something which has become and is becoming a part of our national culture.

"This can be a national asset, or, if such groups are left to develop in isolation, filled with sectional prejudice, it can constitute a menace," the speaker warned.

Describing the growth of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Mr. Clarke stressed that the formation of the national network came after requests for such action by representative organizations in the Dominion such as Boards of Trade, women's organizations, universities and many newspapers. The Aird Commission, headed by Sir John Aird, was set up in 1925, and a special parliamentary committee inquiry in 1932.

"Just over four years ago, before radio was available to not more than 40 per cent of Canada's population. Today, excellent programmes, produced in CBC studios in Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, as well as a choice of the best produced in the United States and frequent programmes from overseas, are available to any home that has a receiving set—and that from our Southern boundary to and beyond the Arctic Circle. It is estimated that 95 per cent of Canadian homes having radio are now served by the National Network."

"Both these bodies were impressed with the fact that advertising revenue could not in Canada finance an adequate Canadian system," said Mr. Clarke. "In any event if left on that basis, Canadian radio would become only a satellite of the United States commercial networks. In other words, if left as a strictly commercial enterprise, Canadian radio would have been lost for Canadian purposes, commercially or otherwise."

Describing some of the physical aspects of the CBC, Mr. Clarke went over the various phases of its administration. The headquarters of the CBC are in Ottawa, and a chain of ten transmitters are owned and operated across Canada. A more recent venture has been the building of an experimental short-wave station in association with CBF, Montreal. This unit serves the more isolated French-speaking communities who would not otherwise be able to get French programs.

ARGYLL AND SUTHERLAND SOLDIERS WERE GUESTS OF CITIZENS LAST TUESDAY

Marchers Find Welcome Hospitality In Stop-Off West Of Town — Quick Organizing Brings Splendid Results Which Were Greatly Appreciated — Days Of 1914-18 Recalled By Veterans.

Days reminiscent of the last war were relived for many as Grimsby turned out en masse last Tuesday morning to welcome the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders during their march through town, and then, when they had passed along Main street and out onto the Number 8 highway, met them at the noon hour with a lunch which proved, from comments heard, to have been one of the highlights of their military life.

The lunch which was served at intervals down the highway, was actually in charge of women of the township who placed their homes at the disposal of the men, but women of the town proper were conspicuous in their numbers as they rushed about spacious lawns looking after their guests.

Officers and men, discussing the day, were unanimous in their declaration that a reception such as they experienced here was something new for the present generation of warriors in this district. They had high praise for the manner in which the arrangements were made and their gastronomical requirements satisfied.

The first inkling they had that something was afoot was when they swung into the business section of Main Street shortly before eleven o'clock. On both sides of the street citizens stood shoulder to shoulder, many waving flags, to give the boys a hand. A special routing section was the entire student body of Grimsby High School—minus those who have left their books for the orchard—who turned out en masse; led by the cadet corps. The girls sported flags, and they got a special hand when the soldiers had passed and they made their way back to the school. Public school pupils were also out for the occasion.

Chief item of interest about the whole day, however, was the manner in which the food problem was handled at noon. It appears that the idea came from Albert Simms, who, when he heard of the intended march through of the battalion, began to wonder if the same thing could be done as was done in the last war. Mr. Simms recalls the time when a parade of ten thousand men passed through the district in 1915, and every day, for ten days, a thousand at a time, the men were looked after by the citizens of the community along the march route.

"In those days," recalls Mr. Simms, "Vineyard used to be called 'Pietown,' they fed us so many pies there."

It was not until close to midnight Saturday that Mr. Simms received the o.k. of the officer commanding the first battalion of the unit, Col. T. W. Greenfield, R. D., and members of the Township Council were contacted. All day Sunday the phones were busy as various ladies agreed to take responsibility for different parts of the day's menu. On Tuesday, the rush and scurry was all over, for when the men arrived at their stopping points along the highway, they found everything in readiness.

MYSTERY FIRE FIGURE DIED

David Williams Passes At Resurrection From Infection Following Burns—Had Disappeared.

Another chapter in the mysterious fire which gutted the barn and shed of J. W. Nelson, Nelson Side Road, in the early morning of May 4, was concluded yesterday at the Onawake Indian Reserve when David Williams, an Indian laborer, passed away from burns believed caused by the fire.

Williams, a veteran of the Great War, was 68 years of age, and leaves a son. On the night of the fire he was believed sleeping in a shed near one of the barns, and witnesses of the fire, which was reported at about four in the morning, told of a figure leaving the building with his clothing on fire. Williams was not seen for some days despite a close watch kept for him by the Provincial Police. Finally he was reported at Jordan, and a couple of days later was discovered on the farm of Samuel Young, Grimsby Beach. He was sleeping in a shed built for storing baskets in an isolated part of the orchard, and it was by chance that he was found. The shed is seldom visited for months in end.

Provincial Constable E. Hart, who responded to the call from Mr. Young, found the aged man in great pain and weak from hunger. He removed him to Grimsby, where signs of infection were seen on his leg. His removal to the re-

Town Employee Painfully Injured

Jack Smith, an employee of the town of Grimsby, was seriously injured Saturday morning when he was crushed between a stone wall and a wagon while working in the west end of the town. The town team, which was purchased a short time ago, ran away and threw the man from the wagon inflicting painful injuries including broken ribs and numerous abrasions to the body. It was thought at first that the hip might be fractured. Upon admittance to Hamilton General hospital, authorities reported his condition as being just fair. It is understood he will be confined to hospital for some time.

Heavyweight!

The heaviest man in the Canadian Army was discovered when the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders went through Grimsby last Tuesday. He is J. O. "Tiny" Wilson, and he is plenty steamed up about a lad at Camp Borden, weighing a miserly 265, claiming the honour. Tiny tips the beam at 295 "without my pack, that is," and said he was standing the trip well. He made no mention of his feet.

Tiny would like to have had his picture taken for publication, just like the pretender to the honour at Camp Borden, but he expressed a doubt as to whether one photo could encompass his whole girth without being taken so far back that his features would be lost to newspaper readers.

A. R. GLOBE HEADS LIONS

Appointment of the new officers of the Grimsby Lions Club, which was done without recourse to balloting, brought A. R. Globe to the president's chair. He succeeds J. A. Jacklin. Other officers named by the nominating committee include the following: 1st vice-president, J. W. Baker; 2nd vice-president, D. E. Anderson; 3rd vice-president, Dr. J. H. MacMillan; treasurer, Ewart Stonehouse; Lion tamer, Orval W. Eickmeier; tail twister, Roy H. St. John; directors, two years, P. V. Smith, Dr. Benson T. Rogers; auditors, W. R. Boehm, T. W. Henry; chaplain, Rev. G. Taylor-Munro.

C. A. Farrell and Geo. H. Kammacher, members of the board of directors, still have one year to serve.

St. Ann's Church Burned To Ground

May 22-1941
St. Ann's United Church, a historic eighty-year old structure which houses one of the oldest congregations in the Niagara Peninsula, was completely destroyed this morning by fire which followed a strike of lightning on its spire.

What?

What is so rare as a step-light's glow
Glimmering through layers' of dust?—And so,
What is so rare as a druggist bold
Climbing a post and taking hold
Of a job that should be done, all right,
But not way after it's past midnight?

It Was Hot!

You people who thought it was warm yesterday were right all the time. It was. Accurate thermometers indicated that the Fahrenheit reach attained by Ol' Sol was 92 in the shade, while out of the shade the score varied from 100 to 123 degrees.

This temperature is believed to set a record for this time of the year which would take a good many years of thinking to beat. Rain fell yesterday afternoon in Burlington, Ottawa and other places with such violence that electricity was a dead issue for a short while. In Ottawa, the House of Commons adjourned until the juice was again available to throw light on the deliberations. This morning, heavy showers in this district will prove of untold value to the fruit growers.

Music Festival Attracted Two Large Audiences

Capacity Crowds Enjoyed Twelfth Annual Choral Offering By School Pupils — Program Varied.

The twelfth annual Blossom Time Music Festival to be presented by young singers from the schools of Grimsby and the district, under the direction of Gordon L. Eaton, was thoroughly enjoyed by two audiences which completely filled Trinity Hall last Thursday and Friday evenings.

With Mr. Gordon Eaton were several citizens who assisted in the business arrangements for the concert and in accompanying the youthful singers in the full and varied program which was presented.

The full chorus opened the program with "O, Canada," followed by an appropriate little song titled "Call of the May-Time." The group was concluded with the rousing "Lords of the Air," obviously inspired by the exploits of the Royal Air Force during the past several months.

OPEN OFFICE FOR RECRUITS

Local Store Being Used To Encourage Young Men To Join Colours — Army Units Only Wanted.

At a late hour last night, with the conclusion of the work of fitting up the vacant store in the Sutherland building, Main St. E., all was in readiness for Grimsby's part in the recruiting program which is being held throughout the Dominion. The store was made available through the generosity of the owner of the building, Mrs. E. L. Sutherland.

Captain I. R. Robb, D.R.O. for Military District No. 2, who is well known in the district through his work when he was stationed here as a member of the Ontario Provincial Police, is directing the campaign throughout the Niagara Peninsula.

The work of fitting up the store was undertaken jointly by the Grimsby Lions Club and the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce. Last evening members of both organizations were busy fitting up the premises and dressing the window, and it is expected that Captain Robb will start the local recruiting activities some time today.

Captain Robb emphasized that the recruiting will be for all branches of the army, and while he would not venture a guess as to how many men were required from this district, he said that local

Three Generations In Same Company

The Mason family have the distinct honour of having had three generations serve with the same company of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment.

The third generation, Robert and Victor Mason, cousins, are now on active service with the regiment. Their grandfather, Charles Mason, Sr., enlisted with the Lincoln and served in the 96th Battalion, C.E.F., during the World War. His two sons, Ernest and Charles, Jr., also served in the same Battalion.

Robert, who has now enlisted, is the son of Charles Mason, Jr., and the son of Charles Mason, Sr. All are residents of Grimsby.

Broadening Christian Horizons: Peter's Vision

Lesson: Acts 11: 5-18

GOLDEN TEXT

"Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons"—Acts 10:34.

In the tenth and the first part of the eleventh chapter of Acts we have the record of how Peter was led to preach the Gospel of the Gentiles. The Lord had said the Apostles should witness unto Him not only in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria but also unto the uttermost parts of the earth. Acts 1:8.

About the last place on earth one might expect to gather in the first Gentile Christians would be in the barracks at Caesarea, and the first man an army officer of Roman blood.

This centurion was a man who said his prayers regularly (ver. 2) yet he was unsaved (11:14). He lived up to his light and sought more. His prayer must have been sincere, for it led him to Jesus. If men would use the simple truths about God they already know, He would reveal more to them. The eyes that run to and fro throughout the earth behold all honest searchings after Him. God knew what was needed to make the experience of Cornelius complete, so He gave him a vision (vers. 3-6) of Chapter Ten.

Now we meet a strange situation. A man is prepared to hear the message of salvation and God's servant is not ready to deliver it. Peter, who had announced that the Gospel was for "all who are afar off" had not himself grasped the idea that this would take in the heathen who knew nothing of Mosaic law and ritual. It is hard for us to realize the difficulty to the mind of a Jew, that Gentiles might be admitted at once into the fold, without passing through the door of Judaism. Recall Jonah, who took a ship from Joppa because he did not want to preach to Gentiles.

To Peter had been trusted the keys of the kingdom, but his prejudice was keeping him from opening the door to all. Three times that vision was repeated, and still Peter was perplexed in himself what the vision might mean. And yet Peter was baptized with the Spirit, filled with the Spirit, and very responsive to the Spirit's voice, as is indicated in verses 19-20 of chapter 10.

The Lord Jesus had clearly taught Peter and the other disciples the thought of Peter's vision, but their ears were closed, their eyes were dim (John 10:16; John 12:30-32; Matt. 23:19). The purpose of the vision to Peter was to bring about right relationships manward, not Godward. Because Peter was right Godward, he could be led to a right understanding of his manward relationships.

The purpose of the vision to Cornelius was to assure of acceptance with God through the angel's message, and through Peter to bring to him knowledge of sins forgiven through the proclamation of Christ as the crucified and risen One as the ground of the sinner's hope.

It is well to note that in each case the vision came to men who were praying. There is nothing like prayer to clarify the vision and to prepare one to receive communications from heaven. Peter's need was very different from that of Cornelius. But each had an open ear and each had an obedient heart. God brought the two of them together in fellowship to the benefit of both.

Cornelius is lifted into the fuller and richer fellowship with God, and Peter is carried into the wider fellowship with man. God still works remarkably to bring about such unions.

Sees CBC As

The variety and wealth of programs which are transmitted daily are best exemplified by CBL, Toronto, with studios at Toronto and a 50,000 watt transmitter at Hornby.

"When you hear that signal, 'CBL Toronto', you are tuned in on the highest-powered station in Ontario," he said. "It's the spot on your dial that starts your day with a musical send-off at seven o'clock in the morning, continues with news and entertainment and never flags or wearies until after it has brought you the BBC News Reel from London, the Heart of Empire, signing off at midnight. Sixty distinct programmes in sixteen hours! Here is where you hear a quaint old codger at ten o'clock Sunday morning telling what the pigs and cats and skunks and bears and fish are up to; the children hear 'Just Mary' spin original Fairy Tales; you hear a great orchestra from New York, Reginald Stewart's Summer Symphony, Canadian military bands; you hear great speakers; you hear dramatic presentations; yes, and you hear Jack Benny, Charlie McCarthy, the Aldrich Family, Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, Woodhouse and Hawkins; you hear Frank Munn and other renowned singers; you hear Canada's War Effort dramatized, and that typical farm group 'The Craigs'; at conveniently-placed intervals you are kept abreast of world developments by news highlights. And this little summary is only a bite from a balanced menu of sixty diversified programmes feature every day."

"When national network programmes go on the air, nearly fifty radio stations carry them, because, in addition to those stations which CBC owns, 34 more privately-owned Canadian stations carry the programmes under special arrangement made with them by the CBC."

"To effect so complete a service for all Canada involves the leasing of 8,000 miles of telegraph and telephone wires. This, to serve a population of 11,106,000 persons. By comparison, the British Broadcasting Corporation, serving the vast population of the British Isles, requires only 975 miles of wire lines. That's 975 miles against 8,000 miles required here."

Mr. Clarke emphasized that the CBC is not a competitor of privately-owned stations. On the contrary, he said CBC and privately-owned stations are complementary to each other. The 34 privately-owned stations that are regularly in the CBC network receive commercial programmes (American and Canadian) booked by the CBC and are paid for carrying them. This co-operative effort is based on service and not on profits to the CBC. Some 55 to 60 stations receive a large number of sustaining programmes from the CBC including such top-flight features as the Metropolitan Opera, New York Philharmonic Orchestra, overseas broadcasts, news service, special events, momentous utterances by national leaders—His Majesty the King, Churchill, Roosevelt and others. And, as noted this boon is not confined to regular network associates, but is frequently routed to other privately-owned stations upon request with no charge. This practice enables local stations to give their listeners national and world service.

CBC is enabled to provide this service through its reciprocal arrangement with the BBC in Britain, the NBC, Columbia and Mutual systems in the United States.

"Another recent forward step for Canada has been the establishment of a short-wave receiving (not transmitting, receiving) station outside Ottawa, which picks up Empire broadcasts; in fact broadcasts from anywhere in the world, and a staff of linguists listen in and translate them. You have heard some of their gleanings mentioned in the news."

"And that brings up another great forward stride taken in the past year. War conditions demanded a regular world-wide service of news summaries and bulletins, dependable, untinged, and free from hysteria. In providing such news service CBC receives the full Canadian Press service and through it, the world-embracing Associated Press service. In addition the British United Press provide their news to the CBC, and this includes the worldwide United

EXPERTS ADVOCATE MOTHER AND DAUGHTER TWIN STYLES

It appears to be an accepted fact that when fashion experts speak, the feminine world hurries to do their bidding. However, for the past year, the experts have been speaking, in tones that are loud and clear, of the mother-daughter fashion duo; with the mothers, excepting of course, those in more cosmopolitan cities, lending a quizzical ear and quietly going about their business—minus the duplication influence.

Perhaps, in this instance, they are missing an opportunity, for the idea of using your daughter's wardrobe as the theme of your own, hasn't been the recipient of the style dictators' nods of approval for a long enough period to be monotonous. Then, too, it sounds quaintly attractive, whether your daughter is a very little lady, or has reached that certain patch along the humpy road of life when age, or lack of it, is a tender subject.

Now and then the result of this twin-fashion story is amazing, when a mother sallies forth prettied up with hair ribbons and whirling skirts. But, with moderation well exercised, the picture is modern and smart. Naturally, the tailored touch must predominate, since, after all, childhood's fussy styles were never meant to swing from shoulders higher than four feet from the ground. Be that as it may, the general outline of the theme is open for original touches and with summer a mere calendar page away, beach and play clothes are a topic any smart young mother could attack with picturesque results. Twin bathing suits might prove the centre to more material forms of the duplication business, you could try it, at least.

Recently, the mother and son fashion story was released in a vaguely apprehensive manner, with glimpses of similarly-fashioned coat and skirts in matching shades appearing here and there, but, since this duo offers less opportunity for imagination-wandering, the existing-but-that's-all vogue in larger cities may die a natural death before it reaches the smaller and more cautious communities.

make their recommendation to the station managers. The second Toronto station, CBY, Toronto, has had several new programs produced.

On the CBC staff are some 5,000 musicians, actors and others, while the regular salaried employees number 450. By comparison, the speaker said, the British Broadcasting Corporation has a staff of 4,000.

A BRITON'S PRAYER

Help me, O God, to search my soul
That I may know for what I fight,
And, knowing, may achieve the goal
If it be worthy in Thy sight.

I gladly cast my all away,
Then let me Thy forgiveness take
And, losing all, still win the day.

THE EIGHTH DECENNIAL

Census of Canada

June 2, 1941

THE Census is the stock-taking of the nation — of its men, women, and children; its agriculture, trade, and industry; its housing, and general social condition. By it, all Governments, — Dominion, Provincial and Municipal — are enabled to work more effectively and economically in the interest of every resident of the Dominion.

IN these days of increasing Government responsibilities, no Government can give the best service unless it has detailed and accurate knowledge of the people and their varying circumstances. That is why we request the co-operation of all Canadian citizens in the taking of the Census. When the Government's Enumerator calls at your door, receive him courteously and give him all the information for which he asks.

Remember that he is in your service. Accuracy and despatch in your replies will promote good administration in your country, now under stress of war and facing crucial post-war reconstruction.

ALL INFORMATION SUPPLIED WILL BE STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

You can place absolute trust in the official Enumerator, who is sworn to secrecy. All the information which you provide will be held in strictest confidence both by him and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and can never be used against you by any tax-collecting, military, or other agency, or in any court of law.

It is compulsory by law to answer the questions, but you will be assisting your Government in these difficult times by giving the information readily and accurately in the spirit of good citizenship.

First Canadian to join the parade of stars from the United States to participate in the War Savings Committee Concert series and the subsequent concerts in aid of the War Loan is Percy Faith, Toronto-born arranger-conductor, now a headliner from the Chicago studios of NBC.

Percy Faith will return to his home town to take charge of the fourth concert in Massey Hall, which is to be broadcast coast to coast over the network of the CBC Friday, May 23rd, at 10.00. Today he ranks among the leading maestros of modern music entertainment in America. His brilliant arrangements were heard first in CBC presentations from Canadian studios in such internationally known programs as Music By Faith, Streamline, and Bands Across the Sea. This top notch program will be heard in this part of Canada from CKOC.

One of the best quiz shows in Canada is the Young Canada On Parade program from CKOC on Friday nights at 7.30 — when the youngsters have a fling at answering the puzzlers. Heard from its originating station, and through CKTB, St. Catharines; CKPC Brantford; and CKCL in Toronto, children from each of these communities participate in the program—and many bright ones have turned up.

Tune in on this show and see if you are as smart as little Mary or Willie—and, too, there's a prize for the smart ones in the listening audience.

Swing fans who like their jazz hot, but not raucous, get a break this week when the Cats 'n' Jammers, WOR's in-the-groove show with Erskine Butterfield, acquires more time on the air and a new spot. Cats 'n' Jammers are now heard every Sunday from 7.00 to 7.30 p.m. (instead of Fridays from 10.45 to 11.00 p.m.).

Augmenting the torrid talents of pianist Butterfield will be Helena Horn, blues singer from Cafe Society Downtown, who will be on the new Cats 'n' Jammers session every week. Although she is only twenty-three Miss Horn has been singing the blues for over seven years.

Old timers will have their innings in a new Crosby picture that is being readied. Bing will sing such songs as Wait Till the Sun Shines Nelly—By the Light of the Silvery Moon—and that venerable tear jerker—'Swingin' at the Church. Bing has a soft spot in his heart for the songs of yesterday, and it was largely at his insistence that the film was made.

WESTERN STATES SOUND APPEAL FOR GT. BRITAIN

As evidence of public sentiment in the Western States, A. A. Gardner, Assistant General Passenger Traffic Manager, Canadian National Railways, returning from a business trip to Des Moines, Iowa, carried with him a supply of match covers so popular with smokers across the line, each cover carrying an appeal for aid to Great Britain. "America's security is built on Britain's sea power," is a quotation printed on the cover and it continues "Act Now — Defend America by Helping Britain." Other statements are "Britain's Fleet defends the Atlantic — Great Britain, therefore, is our first line of Defence."

Those who use the match covers are requested to write or wire their Senators or Representatives urging all possible aid to Great Britain and her Allies.

Uniformed Women Given New Name

There's to be no more wrestling with the alphabet when reference is made to the uniformed women who are giving volunteer service to the Red Cross. Until now they have been known as the Women's Voluntary Service Corps of the Canadian Red Cross. Henceforth they will be called the Red Cross Corps.

"This is the irreducible minimum," Mrs. H. P. Plumptre, Corps commandant said. "People had difficulty in wrestling with the amount of the alphabet one had to employ to describe our corps, so we have cut down on our name but we are not cutting down on our service. And it's possible, too, that

Name Omitted

It is understood that in printing a list of the local names of those who were heard in the overseas broadcast a week ago last Sunday, that the names of some of the Grimsby boys heard were omitted, including that of Franklin Barrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Barrick.

Getting money is not all a man's business; to cultivate kindness is a valuable part of the business of life.—A. Johnson.

in the future our Red Cross Corps of volunteers may include men."

The Red Cross Corps will still include its original four sections: the Transport Service, the Office and Food Administration Services and the Auxiliary Nursing Service.

Warning Against Mailing Cigarette-Lighter Fluid

Despite the recent caution given against including inflammable substances in the mails, Hon. William P. Mulock, K. C., Postmaster General, states that this dangerous and illegal practice is still continuing.

Although the Canadian Postal Corps authorities report that the recent warning against enclosing matches in soldiers' parcels has evidently had the desired effect, cigarette-lighter fluid is still being mailed in considerable quantities, and on one single day this month, eight tins, which had been listed on the accompanying Customs Declaration forms, were removed

The Public are advised that cigarette-lighter fluid must not be sent through the mails. The danger of doing so, especially under war time conditions must be apparent, for should this substance ignite it might cause great loss to the mails or postal premises, and if in transit, to the mail train or the ship; as well as injury to postal employees. Some weeks ago attention was directed to the fire hazard caused by matches which ignited in a parcel already sorted into a mail bag at the Base Post Office.

Postal Regulations prohibit the mailing of any inflammable, explosive, dangerous or destructive substance or liquid, or any matter, etc. likely to injure any letter or other mailable matter, or the per-

Spring Flowers Were Exhibited

An attractive display of tulips and spring flowers was exhibited in the store next to Bett's Meat Market, Main Street, East, on Saturday evening.

"BLOOD...TOIL... TEARS and SWEAT"

This is a war for existence. It is war to the death. It is a war to win or to lose.

There can be no half way—no compromise. It is a war to WIN.

Money is the fourth arm of the service.

Whatever you are called on to pay or to lend, it is little compared to the lives that our sons offer.

There have been many and heavy calls upon Canada already.

There will be more.

Let us face the truth and the truth will make us free.

It is freedom we are fighting for, British freedom, the freedom of body and spirit that makes life worth living.

If we fail, we fall.

Be prepared for sacrifice.

Great Britain has set us an example on a scale of heroic magnificence history doesn't record.

Let us FIGHT!

Canada has the resources. Let us spare nothing. When our soldiers offer their lives, let us be willing to share our livelihood.

Presently the Government of Canada will call for money.

The money is here.

We are spending billions. We are already heavily taxed. But most of these billions and those taxes are being spent in Canada. That money comes back to you. Keep it rolling. Keep putting it back into the war effort, so that it may be spent again and again and again until Right prevails and the world is free.

WELL DONE

Eight hundred odd soldiers, who are now on a train going to some distant part of Canada where they will take up guard positions, have every reason to take with them the kindest memories of the Grimsby district. Stopping off at the noon hour last Tuesday, they found relaxation under the trees along Number 8 Highway west of Grimsby, and there, to their delight, they had no worries about looking after rustling the noontime dinner. The ladies of the district, in the same capable manner with which they have taken hold of other projects in the past, had sandwiches, cake, pie, coffee, smokes and all the other essentials waiting for them.

The project of feeding the men was decided upon at short notice, but that fact had little to do with the final outcome. Arranging for four sandwiches for each man, they easily exceeded their quota. Many of the soldiers were able to find sandwiches and room for them far in excess of that number. Their expressions of gratitude were pleasant to hear, and the ladies responsible, plus the men who turned out to lend a willing hand, must know that their efforts were appreciated. The whole enterprise reflected the greatest credit on all who took part.

CHURCHILL'S FIRST YEAR

It was just a year ago that Winston Churchill, succeeding to the highest post in the gift of the British people, told his countrymen that he had nothing more to offer them but "blood and sweat and tears". It was Churchill the prophet speaking—the same Churchill who had fought red tape and bureaucracy in an effort to get the armed services of his country to use planes and tanks. It was the same Churchill who, during the years preceding Munich and the disintegration of international security, travelled up and down the country trying to arouse Britons to a sense of their imminent danger.

Now Churchill is the bulwark against the very danger which he foretold. The weapons which he advocated so strenuously are being used with consummate skill against his own country. He has had little more to offer his people than blood and sweat and tears. Today the position of the British Empire is perilous—grimmer even than in those dark days of May, 1940. Chamberlain, realizing that his leadership was not providing what his country needed at a time of war, stepped out and Churchill took his place. The position is not brighter, at least for the immediate future.

But dark as the picture is now, with the prospect of a war drawn out over half the world, the position is far from hopeless. Churchill's voice has been heard round the world, ringing out a stubborn defiance against the totalitarian war-makers and at the same time strengthening the spirit of all who live for the day when aggression will be overcome. He has been heard in the United States, and the people of that nation, banding together behind another forceful leader, are rapidly preparing themselves not only for their own defence, but for the assistance of their fellow-citizens who still wear the robe of democratic institutions.

It is significant that the two great freedom-loving nations of the world, both faced with a peril which would undo the life which they have so laboriously built through the years, should be blessed with leaders of such calibre. There is something frank and open

THE VICTORY LOAN

During the month of June twill ask its ment of the Dominion of Canada the largest citizens to lend their Government Canada at amount of money ever raised in of the loan one time. The official objective of Minister of Finance as $600,000,000, but it is her one billion dollars and Mr. Heley made it amount of additional subscriptions over the n this connection it is obvious that everyonnds as he asked to subscribe to as many both this in can possibly manage to take and wiced that mind the Government has announitions as the bonds will be issued in denomi low as fifty dollars.

An official prospectus of the e will be letter from the Minister of Finance in addition banks and trust companies are positors ating by sending letters to their der urging them to buy Victory Bonds.

According to latest figures available chartered banks have 4,845,000 depositors and $2,753 millions in deposits, which means that the average bank account is $568. If twenty-five percent of the bank depositors subscribed to the coming Loan to the extent of their cash resources, ing would be over-subscribed. Noth more than please the Department of Finance and to have over one million subscribers and when it is realized that for the 1919 Victory Loan 1,140,000 Canadians subscribed to the Bonds, it will be seen that there is no reason why this number of subscribers can not be exceeded when we consider the larger population in the Dominion today as well as the large number of bank depositors.

SOLVING A PROBLEM

When the Grimsby Board of Education agreed to allow part of the High School building to be used for the housing of some of the young ladies who will be coming into this district during the summer months, a great forward step was taken in the solution of the problem which has been a serious consideration to fruit growers.

The plan, as it stands at the present time, is that the girls are to receive their meals at the St. Andrew's Parish Hall, and to sleep and use the showers and sanitary conveniences at the High School. The arrangement appears to be eminently satisfactory, and is a reflection of the co-operation which should exist in all communities. With the St. Andrew's hall being used for this purpose other arrangements will doubtless have to be made by the various groups of ladies using that building, but there has not been one comment on this score.

The problem of suitable accommodation for these girls was greater than most people realized. Sanitary conveniences would come under the scrutiny of Department of Health officials, and not all the places suggested would meet the Department's requirements. The installation of such equipment would prove costly and in the case of Grimsby and the district, would not prove feasible.

The one remaining problem to be solved is that of a place where the girls can while away their hours pleasantly. A sitting room, where they could play cards or entertain their friends should be provided, and doubtless this matter will receive the proper attention in due course. These young people are giving up their vacations to come and work on our farms, when they could be holidaying or working at some more remunerative job. They are making a definite contribution, and this fact should be remembered.

Music Festival

Lorne Lindensmith on Friday, was followed by the junior chorus. Their group was made up of simpler childhood melodies presented with a skill and grace which made them enjoyable to all. The chorus for Thursday night was composed of the Grimsby Public School under Miss Madeline Blanchard, while Friday's group was performed by a composite chorus drawn from the schools of the district under Miss J. Stoutenberg. Of interest was "The Little Dutchman", drawn from an old German song and transcribed by Brahms. Those interested will doubtless recognize the same tune, in a sharper and more march-like arrangement during the performance of the Symphony No. 1 in C Minor by the same composer which will be performed by Reginald Stewart at his Promenade Concert broadcast tonight at ten p.m. over CBL.

Donald Catton, who has been heard on a few occasions recently, sang "Mister Sailorman" following the choral group, and his youthful soprano voice leads one to hope that he will be able to retain his interest in music after his voice has been matured.

Two traditional folk songs, one from the deep south, were done by composite choruses, one from Jordan Lake and Thirty Mountain on Thursday night and the Alway and Grimsby Centre schools on Friday night. Diane Sawyer's singing of "Wynken, Blynken and Nod" was quite enjoyable, as was the little pantomime acted by Elaine and Mary Tomlinson to "Polly Put The Kettle On." The "Parade of the Teddy Bears" and the "Indian Story" gave the youngsters an opportunity of donning costumes and going through intricate little dances. These last three were done by pupils of Hagar's School under Miss Gracey and Miss Graham.

A selection of choral readings, directed by H. Wright of the Mountain school, gave the audience another reminder of the powerful words of Winston Churchill which concluded with "... and we will finish the job."

Three songs of the British Isles—"Bonnie Doon", from the poem by Robert Burns, "The Galway Piper", traditional Irish Melody, and "A Wet Sheet and a Flowing Sea" typifying the Englishman's love of the sea, were performed in 3-part, 2-part and unison renditions by the chorus. The girls of the senior grades were trained and directed by Miss Irene Hope in a "Gypsy Dance", with appropriate costumes. The kindergarten pupils, with their rhythm band composed of drums, bells and bright costumes, was an amusing interlude. They were under the direction of Miss Dora Wilkins, but they had their own drum majorette.

Highlight of the program if there was one, must have been the singing of the High School Octet. This group of singers has been heard in not only Grimsby, but at several places in Toronto, and their work last week was ample proof of the reception they must have received at the educational convention held in that city last month. "Morning" by Ole Bull, and "Estudantina", in the traditional Castilian rhythm, showed a nice balance of tone and control of volume. One criticism which might be offered is that the line of singers was too extended, and the male voices on each end, forming the ends of an arc, did not blend quite as well with the feminine singers as if they had been spaced behind and their voices spent in the same direction. The offerings of this group were well received and enthusiastically applauded, as well they deserved to be.

The Young Men's Chorus, also directed by Mr. Eaton, is an institution in Grimsby, and anything which this group tackled could be counted upon as well worth hearing. For this year's festival they did the famous Jerome Kern selection, "Old Man River", taken from his musical comedy "Showboat" based on Fanny Hurst's novel of the same name.

At this point in the program the Grimsby High School Chorus joined forces, and the combined ensemble were heard in a group of rousing selections which wound up the program in a most effective and excellent manner. Del Riego's "Thank God for a Garden" started the selection, and Marshall Merritt did the role of Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., as he told how a man, sitting at his desk all his life, can come to rule the Queen's Navy. This delightful piece of Gilbert and Sullivan satire was done as a solo with the choir coming in on the refrain. "Dear Land of Home", by Sibelius, has become a universal hymn in many churches. A part of the tone poem, "Finlandia", by the great Finnish patriot, Jan Sibelius, the words have been set to a melodious passage, and doubt-

Institute Reviews

Busy Past Season

Mrs. Robt. Walters Named Vice-President — Meetings To Be Held During Summer.

The annual meeting of the Grimsby Women's Institute, held in their rooms on Tuesday afternoon, was largely attended and a review of its activities showed the organization to have enjoyed a successful past year.

Officers had all been returned to office at a previous meeting with the exception of the vice-president, whose office was left vacant through the resignation of Mrs. Andrew Stevenson and on election, Mrs. Robert Walters was voted for the position.

During the past year, it was reported, large sums have been contributed to the Seal Sale Committee, the Central War Fund, the Sanatorium and War Charities Fund. In addition, in co-operation with the Women's Institutes all over Canada, the local organization alone prepared and sent forward 844 pounds of various kinds of jam. The ladies also took their turn at the Red Cross booth which was in operation during last summer and have been contributing regularly with knitted and sewed articles. Several social evenings were held at the members' homes, every two weeks, from which substantial sums were realized, while a Fish and Chip supper in the institute room netted the Institute a nice sum.

Regularly every three months a box has been sent to the Institute's adopted soldier boy.

Among other activities participated in by the members was a knitting course by a government instructor which proved most beneficial.

The ladies had the pleasure of less will be sung as long as music is heard. Eggar's stirring "Land of Hope and Glory" and "The Lord is My Might" by Allister, served to bring the program to a close on a patriotic note.

Accompanists for the program were T. L. Dymond, Mrs. A. Scott and Kenneth Baxter. Their work did not consist of merely playing on those evenings on which the performances were given, for several rehearsals were needed to bring their performance up to the standard which they attained. Providing accompaniments on the piano is a distinct art in the realm of pianism, and those who heard the concert must feel a sense of gratitude that these citizens took the time to participate so effectively.

Cadet Inspection

The first of what is hoped will be annual inspections of the Grimsby High School Cadet Corps will be among the highlights of the local observance of Empire Day. The inspection is planned for 3:15 p.m. tomorrow afternoon, and will include ceremonial drill, rifle drill, first aid and signalling. A demonstration of physical culture by the girls of the school will also be staged.

Among interesting features during the afternoon will be a visit by some 40 Australian and New Zealand Air Force men, who will stop off for a short time on their way through to Niagara Falls as guests of the Grimsby Lions Club.

Other items on the program include first aid, signalling, and a showing of the work by the Junior Red Cross. Tea will be served during the afternoon, and the proceeds will be donated to the recently organized Lions British Child War Victims' Fund. A cordial invitation to all citizens has been extended by the staff and student body to be present for this occasion.

entertaining the County President, Mrs. C. Howard Fisher, on one occasion, while the Institutes of Grimsby, Fulten-Grimsby and Beamsville were also their guests during the past months. Mrs. J. Stephen of Fort Colborne visited in Grimsby and gave a most interesting health talk.

Delegates were named to the annual district meeting to be held in the Grace United Church, Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 4th, which will include the President, Mrs. G. F. Warner, the Secretary, Mrs. L. E. Larsen, and Mrs. George Coomber and Mrs. E. L. Sutherland. These ladies will meet at the post office at 8.30 on the morning of the convention.

The sum of $5.00 was voted to the Children's Aid Society on a motion of Mrs. Murray Fitch in response to a request from that organization.

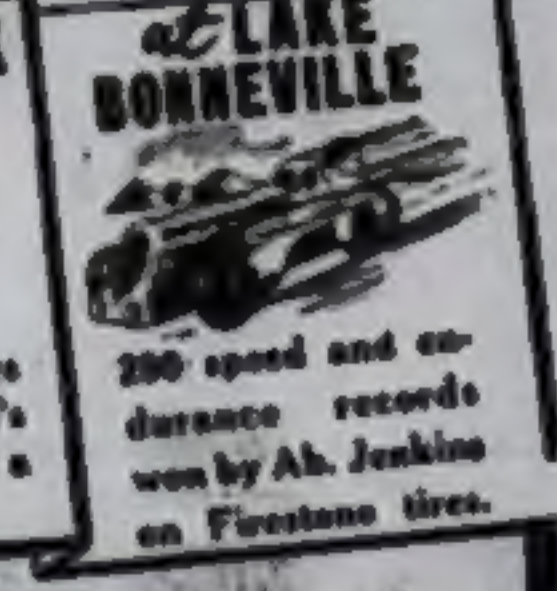

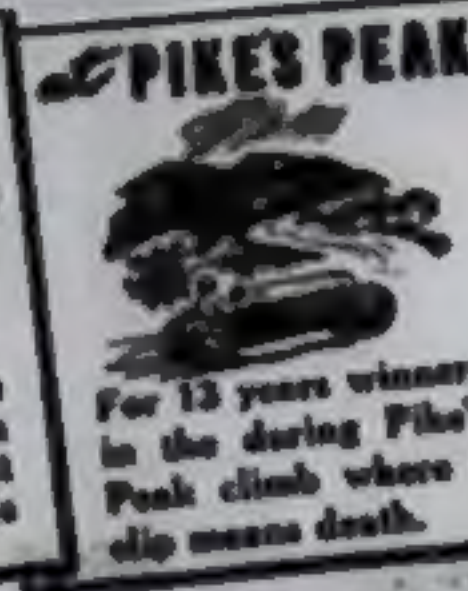

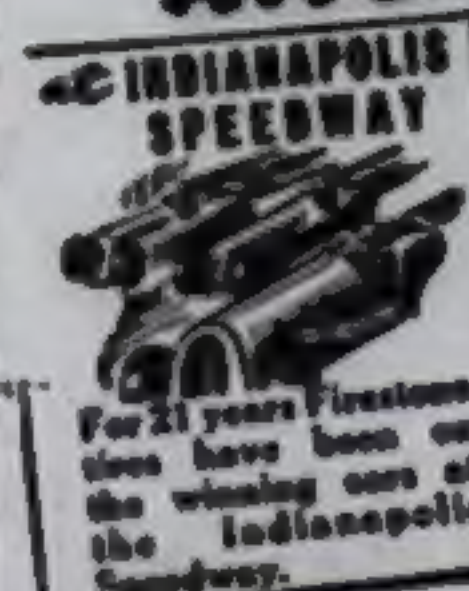

Mrs. Alex McKennie, Robinson Street, South, kindly offered her home for a social evening for members and their friends on June 11.

At the next regular meeting to be held on June 17th at the home of Mrs. E. E. Farewell, Robinson Street, North, a shower will be held for the adopted soldier boy. The meeting will be held in the evening and commences the practice to be adopted during the summer months.

It was announced that the quilt, which is on display in the window of the Ogilvie Beauty Salon, would be drawn for at the next meeting and any wishing tickets could secure them from the members.

JOSE—CROFT

Tall standards of mauve and white lilacs enhanced the chancel of lovely old St. Andrew's Anglican Church on Saturday afternoon for the wedding at 4 o'clock of Madeleine Phyllis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Croft, Grimsby, to Mr. William Alan Jose, of Niagara Falls, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Jose, Grimsby Beach. Sprays of mauve and white lilacs, tied with white satin ribbon, marked the pews for the more than fifty guests. The rector, Rev. J. Allan Ballard, conducted the ceremony and Mr. George Burgois, presiding at the organ, played the lovely Ave Maria during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, made a pretty picture in her white satin gown, fashioned after model Balenciaga, and extending into a short full train. Her full-length french tulle veil fell from a shirred headpiece trimmed with orange blossoms, and she carried a spray bouquet of white lilacs and sweetheart roses.

Miss Phyllis Konkle, of Hamilton, as bridesmaid, was gown in orchid taffeta, with matching shirred doll hat, trimmed with flowers of similar material and she carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. The junior bridesmaid, little Miss Shirley Croft, sister of the bride, wore a pale green taffeta gown, with matching shirred doll hat trimmed with flowers of matching material and her bouquet was also of Johanna Hill roses.

Mr. Harvey Moreland, of Toronto, was the groomsmen and the ushers were Mr. Fairlie Caudlish, of Hamilton, and Mr. Vernon Croft, of Grimsby, brother of the bride.

At the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Croft received, wearing a becoming gown of Elizabeth blue with gray accessories and she wore a corsage of Briarcliffe roses. The groom's mother was attractively gowned in beige lace over matching taffeta, with black accessories and she wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

For travelling the bride chose a jacket dress of Elizabeth blue with which she wore white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose will take up residence in Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Out-of-town guests were present from Eleton, Toronto, Hamilton and London.

At Moore's Theatre

The new version of the well-known novel by Fannie Hurst, "Back Street" is excellently cast with Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullivan taking the leads, supported by a splendid cast including Richard Carlson, Frank McHugh, Tim Holt, Samuel S. Hinds and Frank Jenks. This triangle drama which will be showing at Moore's Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, May 26th and 27th, is a familiar story, telling as it does of the Cincinnati girl who loses out on marriage through a twist of fate but who later meets the man she loves in New York. He is married, and a father; she is a designer of clothes. Their romance again flourishes and remains alive over a period of 25 years when the man's death is immediately followed by the woman's. All through their association, she walks the back street of his life, influencing him and loving him but always sharing him with his family and his worldly position. "Back Street" is a touching and tender story, very well performed by its two principals and intelligently and restrainedly directed by Robert Stevenson, young British director now in Hollywood.

WILD LIFE ACTIVITIES DAMAGE RAILROADS

Workers along the right of way of the Canadian National Railways are sometimes prejudiced towards the activity of wild life. Beavers build dams causing high water to threaten the security of trestles and embankments and the busy beaver who thus causes a wash-out is no friend of the railwayman. Burrows made by moles, ground hogs and other rodents while ingenious examples of animal engineering and no favor with the human engineers who are responsible for the proper maintenance of Canadian National Railways track.

PEACH KINGS START PLAY FOR SEASON WITH TWO WINS

Irwins Take Trouncing At Hands of Local Boys, 21-4 — Second Game Closer, But Shows Kings' Edge — Softball Prospects Looking Up.

All we hope for now, is that there will be considerably more competition from the other eight teams in the F. & S. league, or the Kings are going to have an awful uninteresting season ahead of them.

The Kings started their season's activities on Tuesday night at Woodland Park, Hamilton, against the John Irwin & Son entry, whose performance somewhat reminded me of the nag I picked as a sure thing in the Plate running last Saturday, (they tell me they are still looking). At any rate, with a final score of twenty-one to four, the locals looked like a, shall we say, well oiled machine, and their fielding as well as batting was just a bit super.

Action for the Kings started with the first batter and the first ball pitched; Vic Cosby won himself a nice ball and bat, compliments of the F. & S. league for his homer in the first inning of the seven inning slaughter.

The Kings scored in every inning but the sixth, getting twenty-two hits and scoring twenty-one runs, which ain't bad, brother. Not bad. The Irwinites, scored one in the second frame, on an error, a walk, another error, and three in the fifth, on three consecutive walks and a single.

For a few facts and figures, we find that fifty Grimsby batters faced the Hamilton pitcher, which boiled down means that each Grimsby batter averaged five trips to the plate, compared to Hamilton's thirty-three men to bat, which averages three trips per player.

Batteries: For Grimsby, Scott and Schwab; Hamilton, Irwin and Smith.
Grimsby—21 runs, 22 hits, three errors.
Hamilton—4 runs, 2 hits, six errors.

Home runs — Cosby in the first for Grimsby, nobody on.

Next game here is tonight, with Stanley Works being the visitors.

An exhibition game with Slater's last night, which brought the local team out on top of a 2-1 count, was far better to watch than the league starter. Tufford, on the Grimsby mound, showed a control which augurs well for the season. The game was a good demonstration of good softball.

PEACH GROWERS, ATTENTION!

A New Peach Basket Has Been Originated

"THE WIDE SIX - QUART"

The design of this new basket is the result of much forethought and co-operative action on the part of a body of more than 100 men, representing all the different phases in the fruit growing industry. Growers, government officials, container manufacturers and fruit dealers, all took part in the planning of the dimensions.

Old Six-Quart Was Designed For Grapes—The old standard six-quart basket was designed for the packing of grapes. It is a good basket for that purpose. It is good also for plums, cherries, apples and many other things, but it should never have been used for marketing high-grade peaches. It would be difficult to make a container with dimensions more unsatisfactory for packing peaches. The width as well as the depth is all wrong. It is too narrow for three rows, too wide for two rows, too high for two layers and too low for a three-layer pack unless a leno cover or covering of some kind is used to bind on and to keep the peaches from rolling off, making it unsatisfactory for displaying the contents in an open package.

In no other branch of agricultural industry have producers been submitting to the use of a container with dimensions so impractical and unfair to their best interests, as are the peach growers of Ontario.

Designed For High-Grade Peaches—The new basket is particularly designed to eradicate the serious disadvantages now accompanying the packing of peaches, in the present standard six-quart container. When properly packed the new basket holds two layers of No. 1 or select grade peaches, contains approximately 6 quarts of fruit and has the appearance of being well filled, the top layer rising to a reasonable height above the sides, so as to display in a very attractive manner, the fruit in an open package. The consumer can see exactly what he is buying.

Cover Unnecessary—A leno cover or covering of any other kind (except perhaps for long distance shipments over rough roads) is unnecessary and does not add in any way to the appearance of the package. This feature is by far the most important single advantage of the new basket. Since the leno covering is deceptive and highly flattering to the appearance of green and colorless peaches, the consumer has been too often disappointed in buying apparently ripe and luscious fruit, to find upon removing the cover that he had bought a basket of fuzzy, green poor quality peaches, unfit for human consumption. The buying public is now demanding that the cover be eliminated. The new basket has been designed to satisfactorily meet this serious situation.

This feature of the wide six-quart will be particularly advantageous for the growers who market their own produce on the Hamilton and Windsor municipal markets.

It Is Pilferproof—Unlike the old basket, the new one is pilferproof. The bouquet system of packing the fruit to nearly the top of the handle, now used to properly fill the standard six-quart, is good-looking, but has the result of being a big temptation to the dishonest merchant to pilfer. The bouquet system of packing has also the disadvantages of much bruising in handling and of being a slow, difficult and expensive job from a labor standpoint. These several difficulties have been overcome in the new basket by extra width which makes it possible to pack all the fruit in an orderly fashion inside the basket, thus making the new basket not only pilferproof but also an efficient container, satisfactory for the grower, the dealer and the consumer alike.

Peach growers are urged to give the new basket their most serious consideration and a fair trial by using as many this coming season as may be conveniently possible. In so doing it will be learned by practical experience whether or not a slight change in dimensions in any way would still further enhance the value of the basket for 1942. Growers with foresight express the opinion that this marks the beginning of the greatest merchandising advancement in the history of the Canadian peach growing industry.

The following is a list of names of a few of the men who have been active in bringing into general use this new peach basket:

Beamsville News

The population of Beamsville was increased Monday night by over eight hundred, as officers and men of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders stopped off at the Beamsville High School, and, according to all reports, a bigger boom had not hit the town since the crash of '29.

Arriving late in the afternoon after a long route march, the men made good use of the showers in the High School, and after supper proceeded to literally "paint the town red."

It is highly unlikely that more fireworks will be set off on the twenty-fourth than there were on King St., which incidentally, was supposed to have been free of fireworks, according to a motion at the last meeting of the town council. Merchants, particularly those selling soft drinks and the like, declare that things really boomed, while the Highlanders' rockets roared, and from all reports, some ladies swooned.

A quiet wedding took place on Friday morning last at St. Alban's Anglican Church, of Margaret Georgina, only daughter of Mrs. Clement Guest and the late Mr. Clement Guest, to Mr. T. Milner Potter, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Potter, Lincoln Ave., Beamsville. Rev. E. F. Munnell, Rector of St. Alban's performed the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a delightful wedding breakfast was held in the Village Inn, Grimsby, where the tables were nicely decorated with pink tulip buds, ferns and spring flowers. Candles and attractive decorations completed the setting.

The couple left on a motor trip to Montreal and other points, and upon their return will reside in Beamsville.

The passing of Mrs. Bessie M. Garrett in Hamilton last Thursday, after a somewhat lengthy illness was a loss not only to her family, but also to the many friends and acquaintances who made all through this district when she was a resident of Beamsville.

The late Mrs. Garrett was perhaps one of the most accomplished violinists in the Niagara Peninsula, and her playing had been enjoyed by many audiences through the district.

Deceased was born in England and at the time of her death was in her 75th year.

Surviving are her husband and six sons, Basil, of Owen Sound; Leslie in the Hudson Bay Territory; Duncan, R.C.A.P., Trenton; Ralph, of Montreal; Edward, of Buffalo and Benjamin of Brethour, two daughters, Mrs. B. C. Greig, Toronto and Joan of Hamilton. The deceased lady also left six sisters residing in England.

Funeral services were conducted from the J. W. Buck and Son Funeral Home, Beamsville, on Saturday, and interment was made in Mount Osborne Cemetery, Rev. A. C. Eddy officiated.

The passing of Allan Taylor, prominent resident of Clinton Township, last Thursday afternoon was sadly learned by a host of friends throughout the Beamsville area.

Deceased had been a successful fruit grower for the past number of years, prior to which he was a civil servant in Ottawa. He was a member of the Ivy Lodge, A.F. and A.M., and the Royal Arch Chapter. He was a strong supporter of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and has been for the past three years a member of the Board of Education.

Funeral services were held from his late home, the historic Walker Hall on the lake front, on Sunday

CANADIAN GARDEN SERVICE

By GORDON LINDSAY SMITH

Layouts

If certain almost elementary rules are followed in laying out flower gardens, not only will results be enhanced but the maintenance of that garden made more simple.

The first rule is to allow sufficient space between each plant for full growth. With such things as cosmos or the large zinnias and marigolds this means at least 15 inches. A good rule to follow is to allow half as much space between as the plant is high at maturity. This yardstick, indeed, may be applied right through the full range of gardening. If this much space is allowed then vital cultivation and weeding can be carried out easily.

Smaller Plants in Front

Another first rule is to place the smaller plants at the front of the bed otherwise their growth and blooms will be hidden. Care must be exercised in doing this, however, to avoid straight lines. The appearance of such is too stiff and formal.

The beginner is advised to follow the clump planting rather than rows; that is, using groups of at least three of each flower. Here and there throughout a long bed of flowers an odd fair-sized clump will be brought forward a bit just to break any tendency towards even lines, but the general rule of planting small stuff in front will be followed.

In both flower and vegetable gardening, of course, an early and thorough cultivation when the ground is moist and the weeds small is worth three or four soil stirrings later on. With one thorough digging or plowing in the Spring, followed by two or three light cultivations about ten days apart afterwards, and the average garden will practically look after itself.

Transplanting Hurts

Success with transplanting can be assured by watering thoroughly after plant, shrub or tree is moved, last.

Moving a plant is something like an operation for a human being, and the larger the specimen the more necessary the attention. With shrubbery and trees often main roots are cut and the shock is severe. Half a pail of water after setting out is not too much for such big things, and the watering should be repeated two or three times a week, if a quick start is wanted.

With ordinary annuals and perennials liberal watering is also advised and shelter from hot sun for the first few days. Some pick-up in the way of quickly available commercial fertilizer will help at this time, merely a pinch for small things like tomato plants or asters, and perhaps up to a couple of handfuls for shrubs and trees.

Care should be taken in the use

A. R. P.

"And one thing above all else—don't throw water on them—it'll only cause an explosion. Many people in Great Britain have been hurt through this fact."

Fine sprays of water, however, will do the trick, according to Mr. Burch. He also demonstrated some of the characteristics of sodium and phosphorous fires. The incendiary bombs are of magnesium, which burns fiercely when they have been heated by thermite. With a combustion of 4,500 degrees Fahrenheit, they will start a fire on anything they land. Water, containing oxygen, proves but a supporter of the combustion.

The time bombs, which the German scientists have devised, are of any chemical fertilizer that it does not actually touch roots or foliage. In the dry state it is liable to burn. Experts usually play safe and dissolve the fertilizer in water before applying.

The advantage of good seed cannot be overemphasized. Other factors may be beyond control but the gardener has absolute check over this foundation. Weather, soil and location may be ideal but without good seed, specially selected to suit Canadian conditions, the garden is going to be a failure.

Next Week—No Substitutes for Freshness—Spacing.
Sodium kept in kerosene. In casks of sugar the chemical is a tetrachloride.

Mr. Burch suggested that the celluloid dolls which many children play with are dangerous, being a form of gun cotton which ignites very easily. He claimed that these dolls may start burning from the heat of a steam pipe, and urged those who were present to see that these types of dolls are not made available. The dolls are made of pure gun cotton with the addition of camphor.

Chief Chestney also stated that small discs, not much larger than the human hand, were being dropped, and that children are apt to pick them up. These small discs are damp, but when they dry they burst into flame, and they should be either kept wet indefinitely, or, better still, buried. Sand, according to the chief was one of the best methods of attacking fires started by incendiary bombs, and he showed the method by which the people of Great Britain handle this type of fire.

"Above all," said the chief, "the places where people are apt to be congregated should be watched. There should be regular crews assigned to such places as hospitals, schools, dance halls, theatres, and the like. Transportation should be arranged, and every man should know exactly where to go and what to do."

"The local fire department, even the fire department of a community the size of St. Catharines, would not be able to cope with the job if, say 10, 12 or 14 fires were started at the same time. No city in Canada is equipped or prepared

Obituary

JOSEPH G. MOFFATT

Interment was made in the family plot of the United church cemetery, Grimsby, Saturday, of Joseph George Moffatt, of Grassies, Rev. I. B. Kaine, Dunnville, officiated at the funeral service from the Stonehouse Funeral home and at the graveside.

In failing health for some time, the late Mr. Moffatt was in his 77th year, and had been a life-long resident of South Grimsby township.

He was a son of the late Thomas and Margaret Moffatt and was born on March 10th, 1863. He had farmed all his life and was unmarried. He leaves no immediate survivors.

for them. Under great trees, on spacious lawns, they rested their packs and accoutrements and relaxed.

The head of the parade, which was led by a pipe band, was stopped at Clovelly and there Councilor William Mitchell, on behalf of the Reeve, Council and citizens of North Grimsby Township, expressed a brief welcome to Col. Greenfield. Mayor Edric Johnson was also on hand representing the town of Grimsby. Col. Greenfield expressed the thanks of the officers and men, and his own personal gratitude, for the arrangements which had been made and which were being put into effect even as he spoke.

Altogether, there were eight places where the men were stopped. With the heat as it was, many of them stripped their tunics and shoes off, and comfort was the order of the day. Streams of hot coffee came from the houses, while sandwiches and cake and pie were plentiful. An average of a dozen ladies on each lawn, backed by a corps of cooks and car-drivers, accomplished the job efficiently. At first it was thought that four sandwiches for each man would be sufficient, but many were seen eating anywhere from eight to a dozen. With eight hundred men, the original estimate called for 3,200 sandwiches plus a corresponding amount of cake, cookies, tarts and pie. Doughnuts proved a great favourite down the line.

The women shared a little of their spotlight as several men were seen doing their stuff with trays piled high. When the meal had been concluded, plentiful supplies of smoked were available.

The following homes were used as food depots: "Clovelly", the residences of R. O. Smith, J. A. Jacklin, Wilbur Zimmerman, Hugh A. Campbell, O. H. Boyd and Albert Simms, J. F. Morgan and D. H. Parker, and the Lincoln Inn.

Incendiary Bombs
Discussed By Fire
Chief of St. Kitts

Quick Action in Putting Them Out Renders Them Harmless.

The importance of adequate A. R. P. precautions being taken throughout this district was emphasized by Chief William Chestney of the St. Catharines Fire Department at last Monday night's A.R.P. meeting held in the Council Chambers.

Discussing incendiary bombs of various types now being employed by the Germans, Chief Chestney declared that there was not much probability of them being dropped in this vicinity, but, he warned, "We should be ready. We've got to be prepared, that's all."

Chief Chestney has been spending nearly all his spare evenings, in company with deputy-chief Arthur Burch, in giving demonstrations of proper handling of anti-air equipment to various A.R.P. groups throughout the peninsula. He emphasized that proper precautions taken by individuals would go a long way towards providing fire protection in the case of an emergency, and suggested that bathtubs left full at night from which water could be scooped up in a pail rather than run through a tap, and arrangements made to have garden hose attached at all times were both good ideas which were being used in Great Britain.

In organizing fire defences in a district, the chief pointed out that every man should know his job, and despite the apparent severity of the fire in one location, he should stand by at the place assigned to him until given orders by a superior in the service to move.

The demonstration which he gave of the anti-gas suits which are being worn proved of interest to the sixty men present. The clothing, which may eventually be supplied throughout Ontario, gives the wearer considerable protection against gas and smoke.

Deputy Chief Burch, with chemicals, let the audience in on some of the secrets of Germany's air warfare. He demonstrated how an incendiary bomb of the usual type employed over the cities of Great Britain, is harmless for a few minutes after it lands, and how its flame is practically uncontrollable when it has been started.

"These bombs should be handled quickly, and if they are, there is no danger. Don't wait for the firemen to arrive, pick them up and (Continued on page 7)
